

2.2 Music Charts

What to know

You can create unlimited charts

A chart is a list of tracks, each one with its own mp3/soundcloud/youtube sample, picture and buy link

Every chart can have unlimited tracks

You can embed a chart into any other content (page, post, show...) to do so, see the Posts and Pages section

To display a list of all charts, see the Posts and Pages section

Chart series: you can easily associate a series of podcasts to a radio show (details ahead).

How to create a chart:

1. Go to Charts -> Add New
2. Enter a title and text
3. Set a featured image (best view is in a 16/7 proportion)
4. Set the chart categories
5. Click Save
6. Once saved, using the section under the main content, you can add unlimited tracks using the + button

To change the order of the songs, drag and drop each song using the arrows icon on the left of the “fields” text, on the header of each song.

To hide or show the tracks for an easier editing, you can use the Eye button.

To remove a song, click on the red icon that appears on the header of each song.

If you have problems adding the tracks, save the chart before proceeding (even using the Save Draft function). In some browsers minor issues can occur if you don't save before adding each track.

You can link to specific charts or chart categories in the menu by enabling them in the Menu admin.

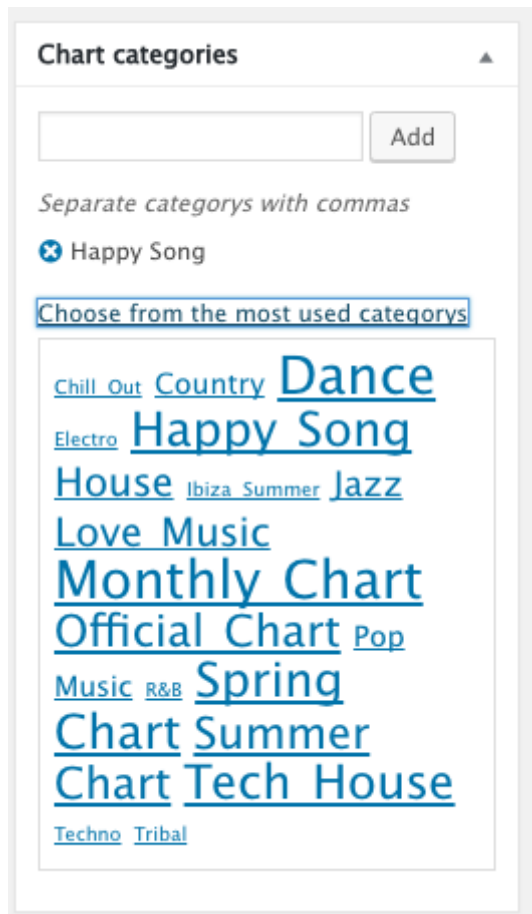

- Go to appearance -> menus
- Click "Screen Options"
- Enable "Charts" and Chart Categories"
- The new items will be available in the left columns of the menu page. Select what you want to add and click "Add to Menu"

Alternatively, create a new Page and use the “Archive Chart” template, then this page will be automatically updated with every new chart. You can easily add this page to every menu using the Appearances -> Menus functions

Chart series:

You can add a specific chart series to a radio show or display a chart carousel in a page using the shortcode.

To do so, add a Chart category to each Chart.

The screenshot shows a web interface titled "Chart categories" with a small upward arrow icon. Below the title is a text input field and an "Add" button. A note below the input field reads "Separate categorys with commas". Below this, there is a list of categories, with "Happy Song" selected and marked with a blue 'x' icon. A link "Choose from the most used categorys" is highlighted with a blue border. Below this link is a scrollable list of various music categories, including "Chill Out", "Country", "Dance", "Electro", "Happy Song", "House", "Ibiza", "Summer", "Jazz", "Love Music", "Monthly Chart", "Official Chart", "Pop", "Music", "R&B", "Spring", "Chart", "Summer", "Chart", "Tech", "House", "Techno", and "Tribal".

In this way, you'll be able to select and display all the charts of a certain category from other pages.

It allows a radio show to have its own Chart series and add professional features to your radio station website.
